

'We Start with the World and How to Transform It' Report from First Equatorial Guinea Book Fair

FOR THE FIRST TIME EVER, in October 2005 a book fair was held in the Central African country of Equatorial Guinea. Five supporters of Pathfinder Press took part, making its titles available. Their experiences in that country—a former Spanish colony and staging post for the slave trade, in an oil-rich region where Washington is today increasing its military buildup—shed light on the openings for militants in the new political situation being produced by intensifying conflicts among contending classes worldwide.

JOIN US in a discussion of the history and struggles of the peoples of Central and West Africa; the internationalist course and political weight of Cuba's socialist revolution; the increased politicization of working people resisting the employers' economic, social, and political assaults; the road forward in the fight for Black emancipation and women's rights; and much more.

And after the Saturday evening meeting, come back for more informal discussion and a brunch on Sunday! Bring co-workers, friends, and family!

Speakers: Mary-Alice Waters, president of Pathfinder Press, and Arrin Hawkins, Martín Koppel, and Brian Taylor, participants in First Equatorial Guinea Book Fair
